5 Million Dollar Loss, 15,000 Jobless From Water Famine

OMAHA, NEB., August 23 (By the Associated Press).—With 15,000 men out of employment because of a shutdown of industries, the economic losses in Omaha's water famine is declared to have mounted to more than $5,000,000.

Dr. A. M. Pinto, City Health Commissioner, also warned the people of the danger of a typhoid epidemic increasing hourly.

The famine was caused by a Missouri River cave-in, which filled city mains with mud Tuesday.

Citizens continued to-day to obtain their principal water supply from a fire house stretched from Council Bluffs,

Although a slight improvement was noticeable in the city mains, the supply is still 40 per cent mud.

Relief is not expected for several days.

Thousands are grouped about the hose, artesian wells and park springs, carrying water away in every sort of container. Street sprinkling wagons conveyed water to different sections of city, passing it out from house to house.

Meanwhile a bitter political fight broke out over Water Department.

Business firm, claiming the citizens resulted from negligence, are preparing damage suits against the city.

Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. McGee

Mrs. E. N. Fuller (Florence Elv), left, and Mrs. W. F. McGee (Louise Groovy), wives of the brokers immunized in New York in connection with bucketshop frauds, are helping government officials in the case that has stirred Wall Street to its foundations.

Water-spout Causes Damage

GENOA, August 23 (By the Associated Press).—A huge water spout burst upon the coast of the Genoa River to-day, injuring numerous people and doing much damage. The principal places affected were Sestri, Pegli, Gorniglione and San Pietro D'Areca.

Coolidge Not Worried About Coal Strike

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1923)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—President Coolidge and his cabinet do not fear an anthracite coal strike. They think the miners and operators of hard coal have more to do than the consumers. Should there be an anthracite strike this fall, the conviction of most everybody in the government is that the American people will grow so tired of the constant wrangling over hard coal prices and the inconvenience of frequent strikes that once and for all a large body of consumers will begin using soft coal and will permanently cut down the market for hard coal.

The impact was conveyed to day from official sources that if the contending forces in the anthracite controversy really go to the extreme of permitting a strike, they will simply be cutting off their noses to spite their faces. Instead of the weapon of necessity and indispensability which has enabled both operators

To Make Rich Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance take Organic Iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic Iron-Nuxated Iron—which is like taking extract of beef instead of iron in tablets. It is easily absorbed in tablets and apotropaic. The dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in oral iron content) to eating one and one quarter pounds of raw meat or four cups of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is easily digested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while metallic iron is slow and causes the teeth to become strong acids on small pieces of iron filings.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It does not burn the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. You cannot wait to be relieved of the symptoms before you do not obtain satisfactory results.

Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic Iron—Nuxated Iron, not metallic iron—in every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

Edwards Named

As Adjudicator

(Special to The Times.)

OAK HILL, O., August 23.—Paton Edwards, cartoonist for the Akron Press, will act as adjudicator of drawing and penmanship at the Elstfeldt to be held in Jackson, September 27. Young Edwards is a son of Mrs. Margaret N. Edwards of Lincoln street, this city, and is a graduate of the local high school.

Professor B. H. Scudder of Miami University was the main speaker of the Scioto County Teachers' Annual Institute this morning. Mr. Scudder is well known in this section among the teachers because of the discussion classes which he has held here.

His subject was "Habits in Relation to Education." The laws of habit formation were presented with adequate examples of their effectiveness.

"First," he said, "he who has decided upon a habit which he will form must launch with vigor the campaign to make that habit part of himself. If people realized that as they grow older they are more walking bundles of habits, they would be more careful of the movements they make in the plastic age of their lives."

"They should remember that nothing that they do or think is ever forgotten or ever loses its effect on the mind, and consequently the life, of the person. That is scientifically and psychologically correct. Nothing is ever wiped out."

"Experts in the scientific life and saints in the moral life are made not by big actions but by habitual motions and by the steady, consistent and constant performance of small tasks."

"In education we should decide upon the habits that we desire. After this step has been taken, apply the laws:

"1. Launch with vigor.

"2. Permit no exception.

"3. Give attentive repetition.

"4. Embrace every opportunity to use the habit."

"If these rules are followed conscientiously, habits can be formed in whatever quantity or quality the person desires."

Mr. E. O. McCowen appointed a committee on resolutions which will make its report Friday afternoon at the closing session of the institute. The committee is composed of the A. B. Prior, chairman; N. B. Potts, Leslie Allen, A. S. Bonner, R. G. Wood, Mamie Erwin, Edna Andre, Addie Smith and Ruth Stockham.

Professor Freeman, who was booked to address the teachers on the topic, "Teaching English Composition in the Grammar Grades," was absent by reason of his filling a vacancy in the Jackson County Institute. The time that had been allotted to him was used by Mr. McCowen and A. B. Fenton, the county attendance officer, in expatiating the work of the truant officer and the difficulties that arise from lack of the teachers' co-operation with the office in that work.

Mr. McCowen also complimented the teachers upon the fine showing that they made in preparing the country fair exhibits.

Professor Scudder talked on the extension work program for the coming year during the afternoon session.

Wednesday Afternoon Session

Miss Elliott's last appearance on Wednesday afternoon before the Scioto County Institute being held in New Boston was marked by her finest address on the subject, "Good Reading Habits." She gave the proper methods to be used in the instruction of the children of the primary grades, illustrating her points with convincing examples of the efficiency of her system.

T. Howard Winters of the State Department of Education addressed the institute on the topic, "Better Reading for Schools."

(Special emphasis in educating the children must be placed on their better reading. Reading good literature opens the doorway to untold treasure."

Commenting on the efficiency of the silent reading test, Mr. Winters said, "It is the ability to pick up a book and tell what is being read, the ability to understand what is being read, that is the real test of the results that the reader is getting."

Mr. Winters lauded the influence of the successive movie. "The movie is a new type of activity to enlist for the advancement of the children. It has deep effects on the character of the youngsters. If the taste is cultivated so that the good cinema productions are taken advantage of, the teacher will find the educational quality thereof of great force."

He spoke of the new official called the Director of Child Accounting. "This official must account for the presence of the child at school and for his normal progress while he is there. Knowing that he is responsible for both, the officer will look up the child and look up his records, hunting the cause of the failures and finding interest in the success of his school career."

"It is through the prompt investigation and reporting to such authorities that efficiency in the school room is maintained," Mr. Winters asserted.

"A better classification is essential to the ideal conditions for school teaching," he continued. "Pupils are classed now because of their age or their number of years in school. The condition prevails because of the 'block' promotion of a number of pupils in a number of subjects. The ideal status is found in classification according to the status of the work and of the understanding of the work and to the ability of the children to keep the work of the separate branches. In the scientific segregation we find the ideal. Let us get down to science," was his plea.

After the recess W. S. McCoy, secretary of the Ohio Teachers' Reading Circle spoke of the work of the circle among the teachers of Ohio. He especially recommended the enlarging of the reading scope for the teachers in an endeavor to give more and better things to their pupils.

"Let us be salesmen in our school rooms," he said, "and sell to the children our ability to learn and appreciate and our personality."

Mr. McCoy spoke of the poverty of many school libraries and of the scarcity of good literature to offer to the children. "It is a crime to teach the children to read and then not to give them something to read, something to appreciate by the methods which we have taught them," he asserted. "School libraries must be charged with good books to satisfy the needs of the children."

The afternoon session was concluded with a short talk by Miss Esther Hayley on the subject "Junior Red Cross and Its Work."

"Junior Red Cross has a definite educational value," she pointed out. "It is based on the fact that children are citizens and may do good citizenship work while they are yet young. Junior Red Cross is a training for good citizenship and a lesson in the serving of one's fellow men. Its chief aim is the promotion of happy childhood—the world over—and through this happy childhood an increasingly happy adulthood."

"The motto of the organization is, 'I serve.' The club is in truth a tool placed in the hands of the teacher with which she may turn the hearts of the children toward good citizenship and service. The children in their work assume the zest of an old time crusade."

Memories of the sensational divorce suit filed in New York City by W. E. D. Stokes, multi-millionaire hotel owner and sportsman, victim of the famous "shooting show girl" a few years ago, against his beautiful wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes; have been revived by Mrs. Stokes' suit for $1,000,000 against her stepson, W. E. D. ("Weddie") Stokes, Jr., filed in Chicago. In his divorce suit Stokes mentioned his own son as a co-respondent, among many others. Later he withdrew the charge, but pressed the others and lost in the New York courts. Young Stokes, however, is said to have written a letter to his father admitting indiscretions with his stepmother, and this letter is the basis of the suit. Mrs. Stokes is now living in Denver, Colo.

Fabulous Price Is Paid By American For Famous Picture

LONDON, August 23—(By Associated Press)—One of Sir Joshua Reynolds' most famous paintings, "The Young Fortune Teller" and another of "Viscountess Crosbie," have been bought from the collection of Lord Glenconner by an American collector, says the Daily Express today. The name of the purchaser has not been made public. The newspaper adds that the price paid was "fabulous" constituting a record for a work by Reynolds.

"The Young Fortune Teller," known throughout the world through its numerous reproductions, represents two children, the son and daughter of Lord Spencer. It was painted in 1775 and is regarded as one of Great Britain's choicest art treasures.

Columbus Man Sought In Ohio Held In Wheeling

CINCINNATI, August 23—(By Associated Press)—Fred C. Fuller, Columbus bus, who is sought in connection with the alcohol case involving Cecil H. Kearns and others at Dayton, Ohio, is under arrest at Wheeling, W. Va., where another indictment is pending against him according to information received at the United States District Attorney's office here today.

It is probable that the Wheeling case will be disposed of before Fuller is returned to Dayton to answer the Ohio charge, it was said.

Fuller has been sought by federal agents for a year.

He was indicted with nearly a dozen others who were tried several months ago. At that time Kearns was sent to the Penitentiary at Atlanta on a charge against him, which grew out of a shipment of alcohol, from the Old Hermitage Powder Plant in Tennessee to the Consolidated Drug Company at Columbus.

Fuller was sought for some time under the name of "J. C. Marion" before it was learned that his right name was Fuller. He was trailed to the Bermudas, where he is said to have gotten into trouble with the British authorities and left the country. From there he was trailed for several months before he was located in West Virginia.

THE YELLOW SEVEN.
THE WISDOM OF
RABAT-PILAIBY EDMUND SHELL.

R.W.SATTERFIELD.

OCEA SERVICE INC. 1923.

This unusual series of stories deals with the exploits of "Chinese" Pennington, a detective sent by his government to British North Borneo to run to earth The Yellow Seven, a gang of Chinese bandits.

CHINESE PENNINGTON stumbled up the steps of the Commissioner's bungalow and threw himself at full length in a long chair.

Captain Hewitt—immersed in the fourth attempt to bring to a successful conclusion a game of patience—swep the cards into a jumbled heap.

"That you, Pen?"

The man with the Chinese eyes moved restlessly.

"It's me all right—I'm dead heat." The Commissioner crossed to where a lacquered tray rested on a table and measured out what he knew to be Pennington's habitual lot.

Pennington reached out for the tumbler. "Hewitt, old son, I've reconnoitered the complete coastline of British North Borneo since I saw you last. The Chai-Hung affair's nearing its final stages. The bandit knows it will probably make a desperate attempt to quit the island altogether."

The Commissioner yawned. He had had a heart's day and it was ten minutes short of midnight.

"He's been away before," he remarked the younger man; "but he's minded the younger man; but he's rolled up again with unfailing regularity."

Pennington's fingers groped in a pocket, searching for his pouch and cigarette papers.

"Things have never been so hot for our enemy as they are at this moment. The secret society of which Chai-Hung is the head has to lie pretty low in these days, you can take it from me: The Yellow Seven's becoming a back number; it's weeks since the yellow card with the seven black dots went abroad with its message of death. It's Chai-Hung's racing personality alone that has kept the fire smoldering that we've exerted every effort to extinguish."

He blew out a long wreath of smoke.

"It's been a wonderful experience, Hewitt, in spite of all our set-backs. There's something exhilarating in tackling a worthy enemy."

Hewitt smiled. "I'm glad you think so! For my part, I'm utterly fed-up with our royal friend."

"Of course you are. You want to place Chai-Hung in a convenient cover and pigeon-hole him for evermore. You sent for me to lay my hands on the heels. Lord knows how many weary months ago—and I'm still at it. For sixteen solid days I've been acting as a sort of railway porter-station master on Mr. Chai-Hung."

Every planter owning an inch of coast is on the qui vive—or says he is. After so many assurances of loyalty and devotion to duty, I had to sit down in a quiet corner and consider where was the unclean bound that was letting us down. Fortunately it appears there's only one this place is under observation. It's sheer assumption, of course, but I'm around somewhere. How's Monica, by the bye?" She glanced down at the cigarette, now nearing completion. "As a very special favor you may moisten the paper and stick it down."

"Duty before pleasure, you know," said Pennington, striking a match. "Besides, I thought you'd gone to bed."

"I did, but there was a mosquito in my curtains—a particularly hungry specimen—and I couldn't sleep. I say, is Domberg really in Chat-Hung?"

HE HALTED AS IF THE LIGHT

DAZZLED HIM.

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, marriage, troubles, roses, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Who is now Governor of Alaska, and President of Mexico? —MRS. R. H. Scott C. Boone is the Governor of Alaska and General Alvaro Obregon is the President of Mexico.

Dear Miss Wise—Can you tell me in how many states the law says that girls and boys must be 21 years old before they can get married? How old must a girl and boy be to get married without the consent of their parents in Alabama and Michigan? —TOOTS.

A couple under 21 can get married in the states you mentioned, but don't attempt to do it as the man could be arrested on a white-slave charge if he would take a girl to either state. Stay where you are and if your parents will not consent to your marriage until you are 21, I would advise you to wait until you are 21. The time won't be long slipping around, and you will never regret that you waited.

Dear Miss Wise—This is my first time to ask you for information. Kindly print in the paper how to can corn and tomatoes together for soup. —J. B.

Prepare the tomatoes and cook the same as you would to can them, and when they are nearly done, add the corn and cook ten or fifteen minutes longer, and can the same as you would anything else. I can't print the other recipe I inquired about, but will send it to you by mail if you want it.

One day there was a ball game in Peewee Land. And everybody was there to see how it would come out.

Mister Daffy Dilly was there, too, right on the front row.

First thing you know the ball came along and knocked Mister Daffy off. But he acted as if he didn't care a bit and picked it up all mashed and everything and put it on again.

"That's all right," he said pleasantly. "I don't mind."

Pretty soon the ball came along again and knocked him out of his hand. "That's all right!" he declared, picking it up as nice as pie.

Pretty soon the ball came along again and splashed all over him.

"I don't mind a bit," he said. "I'll send it to the cleaners. Don't worry anybody."

But Naoy was mad and she stood right up.

You boys ought to be ashamed of yourselves," she scolded. "Winky Wank, go home and wash your ears. Tommy Tumble, you need a hair brush, and Dazy Dump, you're always right and so are the rest of you."

Another sports coat that was extremely good looking chose natural oppossum for both collar and cuffs. The material is a rich grey plaid. It is cut on straight lines with belt at the side front only which ties like a sash.

MISTER DAFFY DILLY'S MANNERS

Mister Daffy Dilly Pee Wee was a dud.

Come up this minute and apologize to poor Mister Daffy for being so mean."

And so they did, all of them, and they were never seen again.

But it taught Mister Daffy a lesson, too. He dressed much more sensibly after that.

Sallie Ann SAYS

Yesterday's cooler weather started me to thinking about a wrap for fall this morning. I inspected The Fashion's sport coats. Really they looked so swaggy and cosy that it was hard for me to resist the temptation to buy one. You see I haven't decided whether I'll get a sports coat or a dress coat.

One coat I admired is of black and grey plaid with a large collar of red fox which, by the way, is Dame Fashion's latest decree for sports wear. It has no belt at all but large patch pockets and narrow straps with tiny buckles over the hips.

Another sports coat that was extremely good looking chose natural oppossum for both collar and cuffs. The material is a rich grey plaid. It is cut on straight lines with belt

SPEAKING OF COAL

A large percentage of the bituminous coal produced in the United States is mined in West Virginia and Kentucky.

It is a matter of genuine pride that the Chesapeake & Ohio has played a commanding part in developing the country's coal industry, transporting millions upon millions of tons every year.

Railroads are now moving the greatest tonnage in their history. With new equipment being built, and the open weather they expect to keep pace with the great flow of traffic.

By October, the "peak" will be reached when the big grain and agricultural movements are under way, and the railroads will be taxed to their limit in the Fall and Winter months, when traffic does not move so freely as during the open weather.

Co-operation on the part of the public, individuals, industries, municipalities, etc., in storing their coal NOW will make available thousands of cars in the season of their greatest demand, and will mean a better satisfied public and more efficient railroad operation.

Your aid at this time in helping the railroads to catch up on the past few years of legislative interference will quickly bring its reward in the form of further improved transportation service.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you ever dreamt possible.

An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown that way. It was the way he himself used the great remedy.

"Mother's Friend," Mrs. C. F. Hartman, Brooklyn, Pa., writes: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and their services were excellent, but with my last two children, I used 'Mother's Friend' and only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mother does. Order from Dr. D. L. Hartman, 1000 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information on the subject. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores everywhere.

DOG AND TURKEY ROW IS AIRED

Alva Stockham against Alfred and Frank Born is the style of a hotly contested law suit heard in the court of Squire Frank B. Lair of Harrison township Wednesday and at the conclusion of the evidence and arguments the magistrate took the case under advisement.

The parties are neighbor farmers and the issue which the court was called upon to decide is whether a dog owned by the defendants invaded the premises of the plaintiff and killed two of his turkeys in July 1922, and in July 1923 again visited the Stockham farm and devoured three turkeys to the damage of the plaintiff in the sum of $55.

Stockham further seeks to have the offending canine declared a nuisance and banished from the neighborhood.

Attorney Harry Ball appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney Walter L. Dickley represented defendants.

Attorney Harry Ball appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney Walter L. Dickley represented defendants.

The parties are neighbor farmers and the issue which the court was called upon to decide is whether a dog owned by the defendants invaded the premises of the plaintiff and killed two of his turkeys in July 1922, and in July 1923 again visited the Stockham farm and devoured three turkeys to the damage of the plaintiff in the sum of $55.

Impressive Services Mark Laying Of Cornerstone Of Mercy Hospital

Simple, but impressive services marked the dedication of the new Mercy Hospital on Kinney's Lane, Wednesday afternoon, at four o'clock. Although the dedicatory program was arranged on short notice and announcement of which was not made until the evening before, a crowd estimated at several hundred assembled to take part in the services.

Promptly at four o'clock Rev. T. A. Goebel, pastor of St. Mary's church, and Rev. Father Bieronski, chaplain of the Mercy Hospital, and members of the committee mounted the steps of the new "Institution of Mercy" for the laying of the cornerstone. The exercises took place at the entrance, which is near the west end of the building, but when the new wing of the hospital is completed some years hence, the entrance will be in the center.

A large American flag occupied a conspicuous place over the main entrance, while forty-five smaller flags were used on either side. William J. Burke was chairman of the program, and he with the members of the committee were grouped just inside the main entrance. These included John Baron, whose generosity made the building of the new hospital possible; Edward T. Reed, whose untiring efforts helped make the drive for the new hospital the success that it proved to be; and Simon Labold, the treasurer of the Hospital Fund; Mr. Valley Harold, editor of the Times; Mr. B. J. Cram, Mr. Henry T. Bannon and Mr. John Vogl. These men all had the honor of spreading mortar on the cornerstone before it was sealed up by Edward Labedz.

Rev. Father Goebel opened the program with a short address, during which he said:

First Joyful Event

"In January we assembled for the first joyful event in the history of Mercy Hospital, the turning of the first sod. Today we gather for a second happy event, the blessing and laying of its cornerstone."

The corner or foundation stone was the first stone laid for the erection of a new building. The laying of the cornerstone meant then for the beginning of a new enterprise and the starting of a new building.

The cornerstone is placed at an angle of a building. It therefore binds and unites the walls.

It is placed at the bottom of the corner.

It means strength as it bears the weight of the walls.

Stone is solid. It gives solidity to the building.

Stone is hard, immovable—of long duration. The corner stone is selected with care. It is tried. It is a sure foundation.

"Our ceremony today marks the beginning of a great work, the first wing of a large hospital.

"It marks the foundation of a place of healing which shall endure for many years to come.

"It marks the beginning of an institution in which many citizens of Portsmouth and its surroundings have been bound and united together in helping suffering humanity.

"It marks the beginning of countless acts of charity that will bring down the blessings of God upon this city."

The Rev. Chaplain in blessing the corner stones used these prayers:

"Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

"The Lord be with you.

"And with thy spirit.

"Let us pray." "O God, from whom every work has its beginning, and by gradually increasing, receives its growth, grant us, we humbly beseech Thee, that this stone, which we are about to begin for the glory of Thy name, may by the help of Thy Fatherly wisdom, be brought to a successful end. Through Christ our Lord. Amen."

"Reflect a moment on the sentiments of this prayer and see how appropriate they are."

"God from whom every good work has its beginning." Mercy hospital is a good work. As first conceived in the mind of Mr. John Baron it was an inspiration from God. This proposal received the approval of the ecclesiastical authority. As such we may say it had its beginning from God.

It is one thing to exist, another to continue. Mercy hospital, small in its temporary beginning, has been growing little by little. It has outgrown its temporary building. This growth and increase has had its blessing from God.

This hospital has been begun for the greater honor and glory of God, and for the good of ailing men. May all who have charge of this institution be guided and assisted by the wisdom of God, so that the building may be successfully completed and may the hospital in its larger quarters enter upon its career of usefulness in our city."

Cornerstone Blessed. Rev. Father Bieronski then blessed the cornerstone, after which William J. Burke placed the box containing the various articles in the stone, and John Baron had the honor of spreading the first mortar on the stone. He was followed by Edward T. Reed and the other members of the committee.

The box contained a history of the hospital up until the present time, written on parchment paper and enclosed in a sealed glass tube. Among the other things in the box were religious articles, a rosary and a number of medals, the names of the state and city officials, hospital authorities, nurses, patients, subscribers and kodak pictures of different events in the history of the hospital and an architect's sketch of the building. There were also several newspaper clippings, U. S. coins of various denominations of the present issue, and current copies of the Portsmouth Sun and Times.

The stone also contains a complete list of all the donors to the new hospital.

Mr. Burke Talks. Mr. Burke then delivered a short address in which he said in part:

"The cornerstone is laid! The second stage in the completion of the new Mercy Hospital has been accomplished. The hospital when completed will be for all classes, regardless of color or creed. God forbid that Mercy Hospital be erected for a certain class. When this hospital is completed, we hope that as time goes on this institution of mercy will stand here as a monument to the generosity of the people of Portsmouth and vicinity. The moments of thunder may roll and tremble with fallen bows,

At this meeting final plans for the automobile trip to the Orphanage Home at Tiffin will be discussed and other important business transacted.

Unfavorable News Forces Irregularity In Prices

NEW YORK. Aug. 23.—Price movements in today's stock market were irregular, with professional traders apparently forced to sell the usual leaders on the unfavorable coal strike situation and reparation news. A few specialties were bid up by those who were buying. The closing was irregular. Stocks approximated 600,000 shares.

OPENING—Professional traders apparently convinced that the anthracite mines will shut down September 1, began selling stocks again today with the result that the general list displayed a heavy tone at the opening.

American and Baldwin, Studebaker included fractionally. Pierce-Arrow advanced 1½%.

Considerable irregularity developed in the later dealings. Corn Products and Allied Chemical, Sinclair Oil and Famous Player extending their losses to a point or more. American Hide and Leather preferred advanced 2½ points and Gulf States Steel, National Shoe, Mack Truck and Foundation Company each advanced a point. Foreign exchanges opened irregularly.

ERIN ISSUES STRONG

NEW YORK. Aug. 23.—Eric railroad issues were strong in the stock market today due to speculative expectations of the benefits that will accrue to the road by the transfer of the selling interests in Eric coal from Wilkins and Peters to Patterson and Bowes, a subsidiary of the U. S. Distributing Company which is allied with other important interests.

The Eric road owns the Pennsylvania Coal Company which distributes annually about five million tons of coal in this section of the country. Under the new agreement, which is effective April 1 next, coal will be marketed by the Eric's coal company not on a contract as heretofore.

it if rose any over Wednesday it was hardly noticeable as it fell more like an October day than it did the fog end of August.

Records of Dr. Schirmer fail to show any August morning in many years when the temperature dropped to within 4 points of freezing on August 23.

Officer Uses Wrench In Making Arrest In North End; Big Row Started

Philip France, millworker, 1210 Eleventh street, and his wife, Elena France, were tried in Municipal court Thursday afternoon on charges which grew out of a clash with the police yesterday afternoon when Officers Kennard and Shafer were summoned to the North End to investigate some trouble which was precipitated by Joseph France, 13 years old, alleged striking a young son of George Bumpgardner during a dispute over a roller skate.

Mrs. France is said to have objected to the officers taking her boy into custody and during the altercation which ensued France was hit on the head with an automobile wrench wielded by Patrolman Kenard. The row resulted in the arrest of France for resisting an officer and Mrs. France was charged with disorderly conduct. The officers claimed that France attempted to hit them with the wrench but the defendants claimed that Kenard hit France with the weapon without cause or provocation. Their statement was supported by other witnesses.

The hearing was still in progress at press time. The France boy will be required to answer to a delinquency charge in Juvenile court.

COST OF MINING COAL

WASHINGTON, August 23.—The cost of labor in production of one ton of anthracite increased from $1.62 in 1913 to $3.97 in the first quarter of 1923, the United States Coal Commission announced today. The report called attention, however, that while labor costs formed 61.0 per cent of the sales realization price in 1913 they had dropped to 69.5 per cent in 1923.

Separate analysis were made of operators classified as railroad companies, larger independents and small independents.

In the case of ten railroad companies, the "margin" was $1.04 a ton as compared with $1.01 in the final quarter of last year.

Three representative independents were shown to have paid $4.44 a ton to labor in 1923. With an average sales price of $1.67 this year, the independent received a margin of $1.25, against $1.16, in the fourth quarter of 1922.

This margin cannot be considered net return to the operator," the report said. "It is practically equivalent to net operating income before payment of interest on (or) Federal taxes." It is not a good measure for trying to arrive at relative profits of different operations."

NEW RECORD FOR YEARLING

DEAUVILLE, FRANCE, August 23.—The highest price ever paid for a yearling on the French turf was recorded yesterday, when Treseigny, a bay colt, by Sunskiss out of Tressina, brought 250,000 francs or about $14,000 at the present rate of exchange. YANKS LOSE, BUT BABE RUTH ADVANCES HIS BATTING AVERAGE

AMERICAN

BROWNS WIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—Babe Ruth was the only one of the New York team to get any advantage out of the Yankees game in Detroit yesterday. He out hit Harry Hoffmann, and advanced his average, while the Detroit went bitters in three shots out of four, and lost points. The Tigers won the game, 0 to 3.

The Braves defeated the Cardinals in Boston, three to 1, Genevich pitching a brilliant game, for his fourth straight victory. Fast fielding, including three speedy double plays, greatly helped him.

In St. Louis the Browns won two from the other Boston team, 8 to 7 and 8 to 1. The first game was a twelve inning affair, the Red Sox trailing in the 8th two runs, and each side getting one run in the eleventh.

The Senators beat the Indians 8 to 5 in Cleveland, making four runs in the first inning and four in the last, winning in a rush after being led by one run.

In Chicago, the Athletics trimmed the White Sox in a 13 inning game, 8 to 2. Rommell allowed only 8 hits.

Other clubs were not scheduled.

YANKS MAY MAKE NEW RECORD

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, August 23.—Turning from the very bright outlook of the present to the prospects for the future, New York fans are wondering and trying to figure where the Yanks will go in the race for the American League pennant.

Although there is that time-proved adage that nothing can be taken for granted in baseball, and regardless of the fact that there are examples to show that no lead is safe until critics among the fans and those actually connected with the game differ as to the reasons

BUT THEY DO NOT

(Huntington Herald Dispatch)

EVERY congressman and every senator, who returns from a trip to Europe, has the one tale to tell, devastation and ruin, anarchy. Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire—Portsmouth Times.

The Times is wholly mistaken. The Congressmen, Senators and others who return from Europe do not tell of devastation, ruin and anarchy as accomplished facts. They could not do so, because these things are not accomplished facts.

Russia tried anarchy for a couple of years, but it now has instead of anarchy a concrete tyranny supported by the largest army in the world. There is no evidence of devastation in Europe, save the scars left by the Germans in France and Belgium.

There is no anarchy in Germany. The German people, under the most difficult condition, have maintained a stable republican government and have managed to feed and clothe themselves and make progress toward the rehabilitation of their merchant marine.

There is no devastation, no anarchy, no ruin in France. France has a stable government, the second largest army in the world, and a reasonable measure of prosperity.

There is no anarchy, no devastation, no ruin, no anarchy in Italy. Italy has a stable government and is, for the first time in its history, taking the short cuts on the highway of progress. Italy's future never appeared brighter.

Austria has had turmoil and travail, but all late reports from that dismembered empire is to the effect that the people are calmly and determinedly working their way back to order and prosperity.

The Times has been misreading the reports of the volunteer emissaries to the throne of Europe's distress. They have not said that these calamities exist. They merely predict them, and have been predicting them for three years.

These fearsome stories are the product of political brains and are told for the purpose of influencing American public opinion to fit a set of precious political ideas evolved by the men who have discovered the conditions which, they assert, are leading to "devastation, ruin and anarchy."

These fatalists are not in accord with sane, moderate and disinterested American opinion on Europe. American business men and disinterested statesmen believe that the only thing in the way of Europe's recovery is the settlement of reparations. They believe that with this paramount issue out of the way and with the nations of Europe showing a disposition to meet honorably their contractual obligations to this nation, practical and simple means of extending help could be found. The disposition to extend help whenever it is possible to do so, is very general throughout the United States.

As for anarchy, the charge is unfounded. Taking Europe as a whole, the homicide rate is far below that of the United States, and lawlessness is less in evidence in Europe as a whole than it is in the United States today.

We may not like to admit this, but it is truth. Willy-nilly sentimentalism and gross and purposeful misrepresentation of the state of affairs in Europe have been carried to the point of criminality and disloyalty to our own country.

What we need is less whining about Europe and genuine concern for the eradication of some of the evils which are not creeping but actually leaping into our own national life."

There is a fine vein of calmness and common sense in what the Herald-Dispatch says, but still we must insist it is wholly mistaken and not The Times; it misreads the tales of the returning travelers. The Times does not.

Scanning the first pages of The Times of last week and this we find the following:

Washington dispatch: Secretary Mellon, just returned from Europe conferred today with President Coolidge. He brings with him a gloomy view of the European situation, politically and economically. He does not believe intervention by the United States can help. Several bankers with whom he conferred express fear of the complete collapse of the German republic.

Berlin—Increase in mob rioting in Germany.

Washington—David Lawrence, back from Europe, says: The situation in Europe is almost as incredible as it was in 1914. With genuine missives one might well ask: Has Europe gone crazy? Are they determined to begin a new era of organized murder and challenge again the capacity of the white man to develop Christian civilization?

New York—A picture of Germany on the brink of revolution, Europe face to face with devastating war, was brought home by Senator Reed Smoot, who went across at the request of President Harding. Equally doleful was the impression brought back by Representative J. B. Aspinwall.

More might be offered were it at all essential. The point is sustained.

We would not dismiss the subject, however, without mentioning the Herald Dispatch on its own high spirit. It is he who refuses to take panic at every alarm, he who in sturdiness of soul believes life is full of brightness and goodness, in seeing right and doing right, that keeps the old ship of state on a safe keel.

New York—Day=By=Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, August 23.—At midnight on Saturday the electric sign changers begin the work of changing the dazzling displays in front of the Broadway movie houses and vaudeville theatres. There is an eager rush about their work.

The testing time is about two hours later when the new signs are flashed on and off. It is always a great moment for vaudeville "plifflers" and they line along the gory switch to see if their names leap forth in blazing lights.

Around the corner from Times Square is the N. Y. A. club, and on Saturday night the actors and actresses gather for the first "lap" of their holiday, which lasts until the Monday matinee. Vanderville folk are the most democratic of all stage people.

The lowly jugglers and acrobats are just as popular as headliners. They have the spirit of true comradeship—the animating quality that makes the life of circus folk so happy. Most of them are whimsical romantics unmarred of the tomorrows.

The Bronx Zoo now has a wonder-living Iguana. The iguana looks like a lizard and is always wanting to go somewhere. It needs a keeper to keep it from crawling over the wall on its way back to the Galapagos Islands from whence it came. Only a sap like the iguana would want to go to the Galapagos.

There are 210 rooming houses in two blocks in Washington Heights. They are the old-fashioned kind where all the food is put on tables at meal time. It is the fast stand of the "star boarder."

Doc Koko's KOLUM

In Summer Time

By Z. Irene Davis

Skies are of blue and woods are of green,
Flowers are mated with velvet sheen;
Gemmed with dew, the sweet briar rose.

Blooms where the light of morning glows.

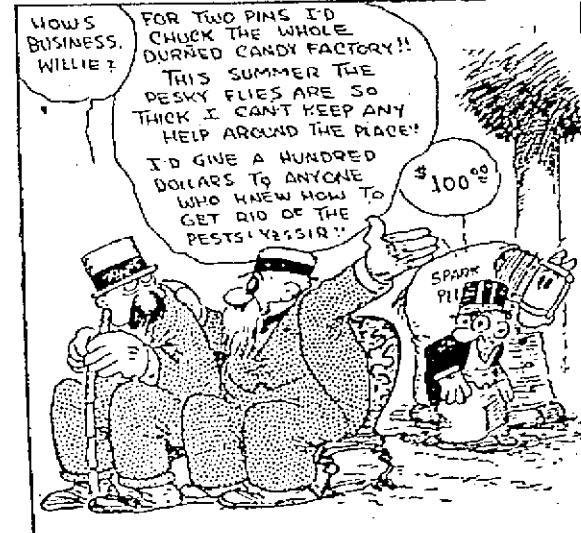

The world at large knew little of Morris Rosenfeld, the East Side bard of the sweatshops and tenements. But when he passed away, the East Side mourned as one and followed him in tears to his grave. He told in elegies of the intolerable conditions. In his lyrics he wove the poignant tragedy of his own life. He knew the pale-faced men of the sweatshops who spent entire lives sewing and sewing, and his heart overflowed with sympathy for them.

THERE'S AT LEAST ONE IN EVERY OFFICE — BY BRIGGS

A small boy, aged 4, had just communicated the fact to his uncle that he had started on his school career.

"Indeed," said his uncle, "why, you must be the youngest there."

"Oh, no," answered the youngster in a very lofty manner, "there's another gentleman who comes in a perambulator."

When a man is generous to a fault the fault is apt to be one of his own.

A collier and his wife visited a picture gallery. They came to some photographs of classic art, and seeing one more striking than the rest they asked what it was.

"That," said the visitor, standing by, "is a photograph of the famous Venus de Milo, the perfect woman."

The collier gazed at the photograph for a time, and then, glancing at his wife, he said: "By gunk, Lizzie, they made a mess o' thece!"

THE OLD HOME TOWN

AFTER A BUNCH OF HOOTSTOWN BALL PLAYERS DROVE THROUGH TOWN THIS MORNING, MARSHAL OTEY WALKER DISCOVERED THE HANDLE OF THE TOWN PUMP WAS MISSING

BY STANLEY

THE LESSON

BY BERTON BRALEY

HE seemed to be a sissy-boy.

A pretty boy, a silly boy;

His hands were white,

His figure slight,

His voice a trifle shrill;

He seemed a good example of,

A sample of

A "Willie-boy"

In every way

That one could say,

He seemed to fill the bill!

THE boys began to joke with him,

They spoke with him

Quite airily;

He blushed bright pink

And seemed to shrink:

Within his girlish skin:

Till some one used a blighting word,

A fighting word;

Then verily,

All in a jiff,

It seemed as if

A cyclone started in!

THE gang that had been chiding him

All riding him;

And much amaze;

Was in the gaze

Of every battered lamp:

"My words," the kid said, "prize or not—"

It's wiser not

To play about

With me,

Who is, like me,

At present—lightweight champ!"
